SIMULATION

The Virginia Department of Educational has designated the Northern Virginia area for a new magnet school program in conjunction with the University of Virginia. The magnet program will accept students from ages 5-20 for academic acceleration from Kindergarten through master's programs. Students will receive a wide range of educational experiences while working with many of the top educators and professionals in the DC Metro area. Given available state and private funding, students will not be charged to participate in this program.

You are members of a committee charged with reviewing a group of applications submitted by ten families. You are only allowed to accept three of the applicants. In the initial group of students accepted to this prestigious program, the State Board is looking for a diverse group of students with exceptional abilities and skills in a variety of areas.

In interpreting the application, you will see four scores in the Committee Use Only section. The scores are as follows:

IQ	Intelligent Quotient
SQ	Social Quotient
AQ	Academic Quotient
CQ	Creativity Quotient

These scores are similar to IQ scores in that 100 would be considered the average score.

Review the applications carefully and make your initial choices. Discuss your choices with your group members and reach a consensus of which three applicants (you may accept less if you choose to) your group would recommend for acceptance into the magnet program.
